WHAT CHANGED IN VERSION 2026

Practice over theory

Ten modules, each landing on something a Scrum Master runs every week.

Ethics as its own module

Team data, transparency, and the AI patterns that quietly fail on real teams.

Real team examples

Module 9 is case studies of what has worked and what has not.

01 · PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Scrum Master week, rebuilt with AI

Ten modules taking AI through everything a Scrum Master actually runs: backlog refinement and story quality, sprint planning and forecasting, daily scrum and flow, testing and release readiness, coaching and facilitation, and the Jira and Confluence work that fills the gaps.

Module 8 is a full module on ethics and transparency inside an Agile team, and the day closes on a thirty-day adoption plan — the two changes worth making first, and how you will know whether they helped.

THE AGILE36 DIFFERENCE

Every module lands on something you run: a refinement session, a sprint forecast, a daily scrum, a retrospective, a Jira board. It closes on a thirty-day adoption plan for your own team.

Every class is live, capped for discussion, and led by a certified SAFe® Practice Consultant.

02 · WHY THIS CERTIFICATION, NOW

The admin is the part AI is genuinely good at

A large share of the Scrum Master week is preparation and reporting — sharpening stories, assembling a forecast, writing the status nobody reads, pulling a retrospective together. That is exactly the work these tools do well, and getting it back is the difference between facilitating a team and administering one.

07 · AI IN THIS COURSE

AI through a Scrum Master's whole week

Ten modules, each one taking a thing you already run and rebuilding it with AI in the loop — then a plan for the two changes worth making first.

Refinement and story quality MODULE 2

Sharpen stories and acceptance criteria, and find the gaps before the team hits them mid-sprint.

Planning and forecasting MODULE 3

Model capacity and test a sprint plan for the optimism that quietly gets baked into every commitment.

Coaching and facilitation MODULE 6

Prepare powerful questions and design a retrospective that produces a change rather than a list.

Your 30-day plan MODULE 10

Pick the two changes worth making first on your own team, and decide how you will know whether they helped.

PROMPTING TECHNIQUES YOU'LL TAKE AWAY

- Sharpen stories and acceptance criteria before refinement, not during
- Test a sprint plan for the optimism baked into it
- Spot flow problems and impediments before they surface as slippage
- Work AI inside Jira and Confluence rather than beside them
- Design retrospectives that produce a change, not a list

RESPONSIBLE AI

Module 8 is a full module on responsible use inside an Agile team:

- ✓ Team data — what must never be pasted into a model
- ✓ Transparency — telling your team how you are using it
- ✓ Judgment — where AI patterns quietly fail on real teams
